

Empire Farm Days: August 6-8, 2019
Rodman Lott & Son Farms, Seneca Falls, NY
877-697-7837, www.empirefarmdays.com

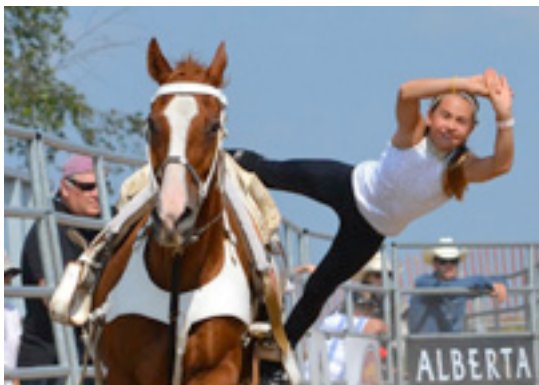

Photo: Teenage trick rider Courtney Jean Schum will visit the 2019 Empire Farm Days. She is seen here performing at a rodeo event in Canada. Photo courtesy of Schum family

PRESS RELEASE: June 3, 2019

Note: Tanglefoote is spelled with e on the end.

Teenage Trick Rider Joins Equine Presenters for 2019 Empire Farm Days

Seneca Falls, NY. Apache hideaway. Hippodrome. Death drag. Shoulder stand. Back bend. These are some of the daring moves that visitors to the 2019 Empire Farm Days will see demonstrated by 14-year-old, award-winning trick rider Courtney Jean Schum.

The teenage known as “Courtney Jean, the Trick Riding Machine” will make her first visit to the agricultural and rural living event at Rodman Lott and Son Farms in Seneca Falls, N.Y. on Wednesday, August 7, 2019, for shows at 11 am and 2 pm in the Runnings Round-Up live horse demonstration ring.

Courtney Jean has thrilled crowds at the International Plowing Match and Royal Agricultural Winter Fair and at rodeos in Canada and New York State. Courtney Jean won an Ontario RAM Rodeo Tour Finals Champion Buckle in 2017. In January of 2020, she will compete in the trick riding competition at the International Professional Rodeo Association Finals in Oklahoma.

Courtney Jean, who is also an accomplished barrel racer, is part of Tanglefoote Stables, operated by her mother Sue Dominesey-Schum at Alexander and Sheldon, N.Y.

The Runnings Round-Up live horse demonstrations at Empire Farm Days feature a different presenter each day. Emma and Jack Minter and their wild-to-mild American Mustangs will be the featured presenters on Tuesday, August 7. On Thursday, August 8, meet volunteers and equines with Begin Again Horse Rescue.

For more details on Empire Farm Days exhibits, vendors, activities, demonstrations and seminars at www.empirefarmdays.com.

MEDIA CONTACTS:

- . Sue Schumn, Tanglefoote Stables, 716-310-5371
- . Empire Farm Days Show Manager Jamie Meyer: 877-697-7837
- . EFD Publicist Kara Lynn Dunn, 315-465-7578, karalynn@gisco.net